

What is claimed is:

1. A marking pen for indicating the proper location of an incision to be made on a patient undergoing surgery, the pen comprising:
 - a handle having a first end and a second end;
 - a wheel rotably attached to the first end of said handle, wherein said wheel includes a plurality of treads disposed about a periphery of said wheel.